Your duties:

- As a Process Consultant you will work as part of a project team on the analysis of existing business processes as well as the development, modeling and simulation of new business processes
- You will organize and conduct workshops with those involved in the process and take over the tool-supported modeling of workflows
- You will work primarily in the life sciences industry and get to know the compliance & process requirements in the context of the (IT-supported) business processes of our customers
- Through "Training-on-the-Job" you will acquire extensive knowledge of the industry and its specific requirements, as well as the modelling tools used
- You like to overtake responsibility for your tasks at an early stage and lead them independently to results, which you document and present in direct dialogue with the project team and our customers
- You communicate daily in an international environment and have very good written and spoken German and English skills

Your profile:

- You have successfully completed or are about to complete a technical or scientific degree
- Ideally, you have very good general IT knowledge, relevant know-how in current process modeling standards and have already gained initial experience with business process modeling in industry
- You enjoy new challenging tasks in a complex environment, like to travel in the D-A-CH region and have very good communication and presentation skills in German and English
- You have a high level of social competence, are committed and enjoy working in a results-oriented team

What we offer:

- We offer individual development and professional coaching by our experienced colleagues in a demonstrably dynamically growing company
- We offer exciting projects and enriching challenges in an interesting market segment with top-class customers
- You work in an international environment and belong to a highly motivated and excellent team
- We offer flexible working hours, Homeoffice, state-of-the-art technology for networked collaboration in a virtual organization, performance-oriented compensation, fairness, openness, freedom for individuality, regular team events and a lot of fun at work
